Mr. Hugh R. Foley Principal

The Valcisian and Delphian classes have left fine records at Uni for which they will long be remembered. The activities each noon during "homecoming" week, the homecoming dance, and the crowning of the Queen inaugurated an activity which will become traditional. Your academic success has been most creditable, and it is anticipated that you will continue your achievements in all future endeavors.

The memories you hold of Uni should be filled with valuable experiences, and we hope there was fun enough to accompany your hard work so that your high school days will be among your most profitable and pleasant ones. Your administrators have been enthusiastic in helping to promote the recently formed "Warrior Rally Club," and we hope the Uni student body will continue to strengthen the enthusiastic spirit you have generated.

As you become alumni of this outstanding school, we extend our sincere best wishes for a rewarding future.

ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY

Now that this semester has come to a close, I would like to thank you for electing me Student Body President. This semester has proved to be a great experience for me.

When installed into office some seven months ago, I expressed a dream of a perfect semester; many of those have been achieved. Thanks to the hard work of Judy Steinberg and the other cheerleaders, the Rally Club was strongly initiated. The Student Tutorial Opportunity Program (STOP) headed by Marci Whitebook involved fifty University High School students tutoring underprivileged children in Elementary School. Homecoming week became a reality. Many distinguished speakers highlighted our noon seminar program. Barnyard Bite 'n Babble gave way to the Root Beer Bust. There was no lack of Uni spirit at any athletic event.

The perfect semester has been the objective of seventy-nine previous student body presidents. The perfect semester will always be the objective. Though goals set in the past are important, the success of a semester is not dependent upon reaching specific aims. Success is determined rather by the values used toward reaching our goals. Activities are secondary to a student body attitude of dignity, respect, and honor.

A. S. B. OFFICERS

Brian Wong, Student Body President

The office of A.S.B. President has been a challenging one and the responsibilities of the position have been awesome in heading all government functions. Out of the challenges and responsibilities, I can see significant gains in the student body's stature. Such activities as "The Bells Are Ringing," and "Teepee Junction" have given us enjoyment. Our seminars and forums have given us inspiration of thought. Our government, even within its limitations, has given us experience in democracy and living within the limits of our situation. Our athletic teams have given us thrills and successes.

I hope, more than any of these things, that the support given the activities of the student body by the students has given each of us a feeling that our school is one of which we can be more proud than ever before. School spirit is best measured by identification with the school, and identification is best brought about by pride in the school. This is what I hope has improved the most. The answer as to whether it has or not applies only to each individual student. School pride is the goal that student government has worked toward this semester. I hope that this quest for increased pride is continued until it is fulfilled to the satisfaction of every student. As far as I am concerned, the semester has been a successful one, as have been the last three years. I hope that all of you, B10's and A12's alike, feel the same way.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

University High School is a name I shall long remember. Everybody at Uni was kind and warm, helping me to become accustomed to American life, and the friendship I felt around me, both in the school and in the family, was a great encouragement in every moment, sad or happy. I can sincerely say that I enjoyed this year spent in the United States, and I think it was the greatest experience in my life.

HOME IS THE HUNTER

The modern-day spoof of Homer's Odyssey, Home is the Hunter, by Helen MaCallennes, was presented by Uni's play production class of Fall '65. The play tells the truth about the great hero Odysseus' return from the Trojan War, and tells how Homer misled himself into writing the story he did. The light satire has a modern theme, for it shows Ulysses not as the classic HERO, but simply a braver-than-average man trying to face his problems.

This is not Ulysses' story, however, but that of Penelope, his wife. Penelope's struggle is between her efforts to live up to the image of heroine, and growing disillusionment with her marriage. While Ulysses is taking seven long and fun-filled years to travel home, Penelope must keep a band of men in her house from taking over, while preventing her marriage to one of them. She has been stalling by promising to choose a husband from among them when she finishes embroidering seven chair covers, but she is already secretly ripping out the last as fast as she stitches it. When Ulysses, disguised as a beggar, returns secretly, Penelope is so angry that she decides to teach her husband a lesson. He is going to have to fight for his wife. Ulysses, played by handsome Doug Boyer, was disturbed when (ignorant of Penelope's discovery of his identity and her plan), his wife began to act friendly towards her suitors. Eumaeus, played with good comedy sense by Pat Fennell, could not tell Ulysses of his wife's plan, for he had reluctantly disclosed his master's identity to her. Ulysses' old nurse, Clia, played brilliantly by Karin Kaplan, tried to stop Penelope from baiting Ulysses. Homer, hilariously portrayed by Jeff Joseph, researching for the Odyssey with the preconceived idea of his HERO, tried to stop Penelope because her plan was unheroinely. The goddess, Athena, overseer of the proceedings, was delightfully played by Sarah Stall. The flirtatious maid, Amaryllis, portrayed brightly by Laurie Schick, served to compliacte matters when, in a fit of temper she revealed how Penelope was ripping out the embroidery.

On Ulysses' side were his son Telemacus and his mute servant, played well by Lloyd Cohn and Neil Rein respectively. The two leading suitors, Melas and Eryx, were portrayed with proper arrogance by Justin Dupont and Darius Davenport. The other suitors were enthusiastically played by Elliot Witkow, Steve Shandovel, and Pat Moriarity.

Merry Scanlon filled the large and difficult role

Merry Scanlon filled the large and difficult role of Penelope for Kim Flesch, who became ill three days before the performance.

The play was directed by Miss Ysabel Sullivan, Uni's drama teacher. The technical side of the production was supervised by Mrs. Dorothy Felton. The combined cooperation of stage crew and cast produced a delightful comedy with beautiful sets and costumes and many fine performances.

HOMECOMING WEEK

On Friday night, November 12, 1965, Judy Steinberg was crowned First Annual Homecoming Queen of Uni. This marked the climax of Homecoming Week. The activities of Homecoming Week included a Karate Exhibition at noon on Wednesday, November 10, and a great concert featuring Gary Lewis and the Playboys, Dave and the Van-Tays, and the Californians. The concert was one of the high points of the week's activities. Friday afternoon at the Westchester football game, the candidates for Homecoming Queen were presented during half-time. They were Carol Bennett, Julie Martin, Terri Garcia, Nancy Older, Judy Steinberg, Dorothy Wall, and Marcia Whitebook. At the Homecoming Dance on Friday night, the Queen and her Princesses were announced. The dance was a big success and a great ending to Uni's First Annual Homecoming Week.

SPORTS

The 1965 Football Season, marred with several heartbreaks and near misses, found the Warriors in a tie for third place in the Western League with a 3-2-1 record. With a few breaks, the Warriors could easily have ended up 5-1 and runner-up in the Western League. The Warriors began season play with a 14-2 victory over Fairfax, followed by a 28-7 trouncing of last year's Western League Champion, Venice. The third game of the year saw the Warriors miss victory by seven seconds when they were tied by a stubborn Hollowood team 7-7. The annual rivalry between Palisades proved to be the crushing defeat. The Warriors had a statistical edge in all categories, except the score losing 6-0. After bouncing back to beat Hamilton 21-12, the Warriors then lost the final game of the year to the Westchester Comets, 1965 Western League Football Champions.

The strongest point of this year's offense was the passing attack, which fell apart somewhat after the injury to Randy Laub in a non-league game. Laub led the Western League in passing with 35 completions out of 89 attempts, for 607 yards and five touchdowns. Laub's favorite targets were Ralph Chavez, split end; Jim Healy, tight end; and All-League Ernie Brazier at flankerback. Healy led the Western League in total receptions with 15 for 168 yards, while Brazier led the league in total yardage and touchdown passes, receiving 12 passes for 298 yards and four touchdowns. Chavez caught 4 passes for 137 yards, and also did the place-kicking and kicking-off.

The rushing attack was led by Fullback Ed Meza, and Halfbacks Bill Hall and Bob Matsumoto. Walter Chihara, ably filling in for the injured Laub, also proved to be an effective runner scrambling for sizable gains when the yardage was needed.

The key to the success of any offense lies in the linemen up front. The strength of the Warrior Line consisted of Tom Gordon, center and co-captain; Ira Marshall, Phil Simms, and John Bess at guards; and Terry Tokuda and Ron Roxas at tackles. Much of the success of the passing attack and rushing game can be attributed to the fine effort of these linemen.

Because of a low scoring offense, the Warriors had to depend heavily on the hard-nose and spirited defensive unit. Due to lack of depth, many Warriors found themselves playing both offense and defense. The defensive backfield of Bill Hall, Gregg Fancon, Ernie Brazier, and Ed Meza was the best in the league. The two starting defensive ends were Bill Kyle, and Tom Gordon, one of the finest defensive ends in the league. The defensive line was spearheaded by Terry Tokuda, John Bess, Ira Marshall, and Tom Boyd. Backing up the line were John Kellam, co-captain, Walter Chihara, Jim Healy, and Tom Clemens. Other members who contributed to the strength of the defense were Joe Ross, Phil Simms, Ron Roxas, and Courtney Grove.

Under the inspirational leadership of Head Coach Joe Sedia, and Assistant Coach Dick Jacobson, the Warriors had a successful season. Both coaches were spirited and enthusiastic through the entire season, which was indicated by the play of this year's Varsity Football Team.

BEE FOOTBALL

Coach Chuck Holloway

Coach Bud Wakeling

A potentially explosive Bee team suffered many setbacks this year. With the best backfield in the league, the Bees made little headway because of an injury ridden line.

Coaches Chuck Hollaway and Bud Wakeling ran the team hard to overcome the weaknesses. Their determined training paid off during the St. Paul game. The biggest Bee team Uni ever faced went crazy as the midgetmen ran all over the slow footed giants, winning 13-0.

The Bees also beat their arch rivals Palisades 25-20 in what proved to be the most satisfying victory.

Uni's backfield, the best by far in the league, had three good quarterbacks: Co-Capt. Manuel Veramontes, Joe Reveles, and Dave Simmons. All league candidates Frank Ramestella and Co-Capt. Ron Hagar provided the power and speed.

Co-Captains Stan Shimotsu, Reed Ueda and Walter Morita led the linemen. Standouts included Bill Brooks, Neal Rein, Don Hanlon, Robert Mochuzuki, Rollin Edmonds, Ward Nyhus and Dana Sinsabaugh. Outstanding tackler all year was Danny Perez who led the team in that department.

The Uni Harriers performed extremely well for the overall season. Under the excellent supervision of Coach Richard Kampmann, the Varsity placed second, J.V. placed first and the 10th grade placed second in league.

The Varsity team led by Eric Zaage, and Mike Lockitch, were shooting for a perfect season when Palisades beat them by one point in the fourth meet. Larry Hansen, Rubin Cerda, and Dennis Wulkan, filled in the top five spots on the '65 Varsity team.

Having one of the best teams

Having one of the best teams in Uni's history, the J.V. team fought its way to an undefeated season bagging first in league. Struggling for the top five places on this tough team were Andre Balla, Jerry Lynn, Joe Cohen, Dave Work and Bruce Winston. Uni's chances for top contention in the city finals depended upon these runners.

The 10th grade followed the varsity to the letter. Their chances for an undefeated season were toppled in the Palisades' meet. The 10th grade had an excellent team, but it was taken by surprise in the grueling Pali meet. The team's leaders, John Stathan, Ross Noden, Bruce Work, Mike Barnes, Dan Hirsch, and Steve Vosper met their first difficult competition in this encounter.

A potentially great season was marred by one crushing meet. Remember Uni next year —Pali falls.

Coach Kampmann

This year's University High basketball team, under the excellent coaching of Courtney Borio, finished first in the Western League with a 10-2 record and topped off a great season by capturing third in city. The Warriors, not considered much of a threat for the league crown at the beginning of the year, fought their way to a perfect first round with key victories over Fairfax (85-77) and Hamilton (79-70) in the Warrior gym. They then coasted to the league championship as highly-regarded Hamilton fell apart after their loss at Uni.

In the first round of the City Tournament at Pauley Pavilion, Uni faced a determined Polytechnic team, led by All-City Guard Dave Malkin. After leading 34-29 at the half, the Warriors outscored the Parrots 17-8 in the third period to ice a 68-56 victory. Second round opponent for the Warriors was the Dorsey Dons from the powerful Southern League. Tight defense and good shooting (71% in the first half) carried Uni to a 71-65 win. Now in the semi-finals, the Warriors met a devastating Jefferson team which averaged over 115 points per game against Southern League opponents. Jeff's depth proved too much for the Warrior five, as Uni succumbed 92-66. The Jeff strategy was to use a fast-breaking offense coupled with a full court press to wear our team down. Then they would substitute a fresh second string, a unit almost as good as the first, to continue the hectic pace. The effects of the pace were very evident even as early as the second period. Uni, without such overwhelming depth, could not keep up and as Jeff substituted fresh units, the Warriors fell farther and farther behind. In the final game at Pauley Pavilion, Uni completely outclassed West Valley champ Cleveland 81-65 to finish third in the tournament.

For their fine play in the city tournament, John Ecker and Dick Glucksman were selected for the first and second all-tournament teams respectively. Steve Sherwin was recognized for his superb defensive job on Dorsey's big gun, Greeley Snowden, and Cleveland's All-City Forward Bill Mayer by being named the Tourney's best defensive player.

The success of the team was due largely to the players' ability to work together as a unit. This ability was demonstrated best by team defense led by Steve Sherwin, Tim Johnson, and Dick Glucksman. Uni allowed league foes a stingy 57.5 points per game. Offensively for the Warriors, John Ecker (20.8 points and 8 rebounds per game) and Bill Seibert (20.3 points and 10 rebounds per game) carried the scoring and rebounding load. All-Western League honors went to John Ecker and Bill Seibert (first string) and Dick Glucksman (second string), while Ecker was selected to the All-City first team. Other important figures were sixth man Terry Storms, who proved himself invaluable during the year by coming off the bench and popping key jumpers; Trent Lipscomb, a point man with great desire, and Jamiel Dave, a junior forward with fine ability and a great future. Rounding out the squad were postmen Jack Kurkov and Vytas Katilius, both improving greatly and becoming valuable performers by the season's end, and Danny Elliott, a junior point man, who, along with Storms and Dave, should form the nucleus of next year's varsity squad.

GYMNASTICS

Although having lost several fine competitors from the previous year, the 1966 gym team had excellent prospects to begin the season. There were many outstanding individuals returning who competed in League and City Finals last year, such as Rick Provisor, rope climb; Alan Briese and Larry Fratus, horizontal bar; Lauren Silver, side horse; Dennis Toya, rings; Jim Zukin, tumbling. Other individuals to watch are Dale Rossman, Martin Lipp, Chuck Parrish, Fred Wetterau, Howard Peikoff and Mike Cortrite.

These individuals with strong support from the entire team promised another championship year.

SWIMMING

The 1966 Swim team lived up to past records by using all of their depth and ability to place themselves high in League standings. With the guidance of Coach Richard Jacobson, the team was able to get into top condition and gave an outstanding performance in League competition. Many contenders were sent to the city championships. The varsity swim team, compiled of the most powerful sprinters in the Western League were led by Arnold Schnitz, Bob Heinz Bob Duben, and John Kellam. Top men in distance were Doug Murray and George Rubin. Perry Farnsworth in the butterfly, Art Mattison in the breaststroke and Pat Kellogg in the backstroke, led in the skill events.

Our diving team consisted of Steve Weinstein and Rodger Brand. The Bee team, made mostly of last years greatly improved Cee's, was sparked by Jeff Padve, Mike Agron, Pat Jones, Mike Leneman and Tom Walsh. The Cee's made their impressive showing with the the services of Jeff Greenberg, Jay Chuchovich, Josh Jampol, Craig Roessler, Chuck Strelitz and Steve Tollefson. Because of the above mentioned swimmers the University swim team was able to continue its high level of performance. Although the Varsity team is made mostly of seniors, the Bee and Cee teams are strong enough to carry Uni through again next year.

VARSITY TENNIS

Clean white lines stretch across the slab toward the enemy. The throat yearning for moisture gets only burning air ascending from boiling concrete. The leather grip spins in a throbbing hand. Staggering towards the line, each quivering muscle warns of collapse. Now, with a spasm of motion, the final battle begins. The enemy, a vengeful warrior attacks. Driven to the corner, there is a lunge, then a weak rebuttal.

The enemy winds for the merciless kill . . . a breathless momen between aim and fire . . . then the final crashing blow, like a ten foot breaker hitting a wounded surfer! . . . then a silent moment, defeat. This has been the last point of a tennis match as seen through the eyes of many a UNI opponent this semester.

The UNI high team developed into a successful unit as a result of real team spirit. Forty tenth graders made early bids to gain positions on the roster. Keen competition from the improving JV's kept doubles positions open all season. Competition throughout the ladder made 1966 a real team effort. Coach Borio felt conditioning might become a factor as the months wore on. So, the team ran. Only Mike Barnes, a former Kampmann runner, survived in one piece. The 1966 team, highlighted by depth, was led by Junior two year all-city player, Paul Marienthal. The remaining singles players were juniors or sophomores. Mike Barnes, a sophomore, played second and third man. A strong backcourt player, Mike displayed a powerful game throughout the year. Every team must have a cock-eyed lefty, and ours was John Friedman. Combining a big serve and a flawless backhand, John demoralized the opposition. Our strategist of the corps was Skip Alexander. Speed and determination were his forte. Scott Kivel utilized a faultless service to crush opponents all year. Bobby Gold displayed Goliath power to blow Western League opponents into the bay. Doubles found great strength among the seniors.

Jim Manning and Brian Wong again proved a winning combination. Dan Saks and Neil Ward plugged away for the third and final year. A new team of juniors, Steve Martin, and sophomore Jeff Soloman, also played doubles during the campaign.

Special recognition must go to the JV tennis players of 1966. These tenth graders worked many hours every day to improve the fine points of the game. These boys included Bob Kramer, Andy Hill (a former Varsity basketball player), Joe Fielding, Dave White, Mike Friedman, Robert Belden, Walter Schmidt, Mike Tannenbaum, and Greg Gelfan.

VARSITY BASEBALL

This year's outstanding baseball squad was again a top contender for the league title, along with Venice and last year's champ, Westchester. The intense spirit of Coach Joe Sedia's Warriors characterizes a well-disciplined and well-coached team. The team is loaded with heavy hitting, balanced pitching, and fine fielding. The hitting includes such sluggers as Bill Kyle, Tak Matsuda, Bill Brooks, Keith Cowan and Dick Glucksman, all returning lettermen. On the mound are starters Phil Durgin, Scott Sandie and Ken New backed by George Piedra, Steve Oetting and Mark Sperling in the bullpen. The infield includes Ken Baldwin, third baseman; Jamiel Dave, shortstop; Keith Cowan, all league second baseman; and Bill Kyle, first baseman. A very experienced outfield includes all returning players Tak Matsuda, Bill Brooks, and Dick Glucksman. The team is rounded out by our fine backstop, Steve Mochizuki. A hard-driving, fastrunning ball club, pushed on by the inspiring coaching of Mr. Sedia, has finished high in league competition.

BASEBALL

A combination of skillful batting, good fielding and strong pitching yielded a most successful 1966 Junior Varsity Baseball squad. After practice games against St. Bernards and Beverly High, the players had the experience and the depth to develop good team work. With fine team spirit and the coaching of Mr. Ed Bush, the early season rough edges were smoothed out and the squad displayed great ability in their pursuit of the Western league title. The J.V. players this year will be the artillery Coach Sedia will use next year for his Varsity squad. They should be congratulated for displaying good sportsmanship throughout the season.

GRADUATION

CLASS OF WINTER 1966

The 1966 Chieftain has been designed, organized, and produced by twenty-six reasonable facsimiles of the group pictured on the previous page. They have attempted to record pictorially the many faces of school life to which each of you, the student body, may personally relate. The staff is hopeful that the areas of significance have been captured for you whether they be in class activities, honor organizations, athletics, or student government. Accomplishment has been outstanding in all of these endeavors. Several students distinguished themselves for outstanding achievement in speech tournaments. The athletic ability of many individuals and teams were recognized city wide. The members of the student government explored their responsibilities, their limitations, and their opportunities.

Inevitably changes occur during the year which are impossible to represent in the yearbook, Mrs. Reynolds became our Girls' Dean in the spring semester and Mrs. Prince and Miss Vance left University High to become Vice Principals of other schools. Mrs. Dodge, Miss Erikson, Mrs. Haky, Mr. Jones, and Mrs. Moore joined the Uni faculty and were regretfully omitted from the teachers' section.

Two very accomplished senior classes have graduated this year and to them we offer best wishes in their individual pursuits.

A very special tribute and a fond farewell are extended to one of Uni's most beloved teachers, Mr. Mel Lindsey. His contribution to the school cannot be itemized in a few words but his efforts as class sponsor, yearbook advisor, alumni advisor, and most importantly, his influence in teaching are appreciated by all who have worked with him. Few will remember his class demonstrations of the shimmy, but all of his friends and students have been amused on more than one occasion by his spontaneous wit. We will all miss his personality on the faculty and wish him a most enjoyable vacation.

Many thanks to those who have made possible the printing of this book: Mr. Hesslein and his photographers, Miss Addison for keeping the books straight, Mr. Powell of the American Yearbook Company, and the Davis Studio. Above all, thanks to the members of the Chieftain Staff who through their consistent use of good judgment, necessary flexibility, and total cooperation, have created an extremely pleasant experience for their sponsor . . . and a yearbook.
